PEACE NEGOTIATORS TO BE SOON AT WORK

Proceedings to be Hurried Along Energetically.

JAPAN WILL BE REASONABLE.

The Cessation or Continuance of Hostilities May Be Decided at the First Session—The Cost of the War to Be Covered By the Indemnity Demanded By Japan—These and Other Tips Are Given Out By Komura and Others.

Washington, July 26.—Whether there is to be peace in the far East or a continuance of the war will be practically decided at the first business meeting of the Washington conference, which will convene at the Navy Yard, Portsmouth, N. H., on about August 5.

Baron Komura will on that occasion communicate to M. Witte the essentials of Japan's peace terms for further negotiations. This, it is declared, will not be done in a spirit of defiance, indeed, there are many evidences in the possession of the neutral government that Japan is coming to the Washington conference, not imbued with a desire to humiliate Russia, but only to exact terms which will insure a lasting peace in the Far East; and which will in a measure compensate Japan for the financial losses in the present conflict.

Throughout the preliminary negotiations, however, Japan has made it clear at Washington that she wished to avoid unnecessary tedious negotiations.

Although guarding with great care the official statement of her terms, Japan has not kept from several friendly governments the general character of these terms.

Official Washington has been enabled to form within certain limits a general idea of their character.

It is known that Japan will demand an indemnity that will approximately cover the cost of the war to date. This was communicated to Russia early in the preliminary negotiations. The amount still is a secret, but it is based upon the most careful estimates of the cost of the war, and will be accompanied by a more or less detailed statement, showing the method by which the final figures were compiled. It will not fall far short of one billion dollars, according to advices reaching here from well informed sources. Besides the indemnity, it is believed Japan's other essentials to the continuance of the negotiations are the cession to Japan of Saghalien, of the Liao-Tung peninsula, and of the railway as far as Harbin; the recognition of Japan's predominating influence in Korea, and the return of Manchuria to China.

If the Russian plenipotentiaries are prepared to accept these essentials, the officials here are confident that the bases will be laid for negotiations sure to lead to the signing of the treaty of Washington, bringing peace in the Far East.

A FINE YACHT RACE WON BY A DETROIT BOAT.

For Five Miles the Yachts Were Abreast of Each Other.

Put-in Bay, O., July 26.—There was a general reversal of results in the race program today. The course was five miles to windward and return in a breeze from the northwest. The yachts beat out to the turn in slow time, but with a stronger wind the spinnaker run home furnished many exciting brushes.

Sultana of Detroit won the 40-foot class race, with Enright, Toledo, and City of the Straits, Detroit, abreast of each other nearly all the way down the five-mile leg. The Enright forged ahead at the finish and beat her old rival by six seconds for second place.

In the 30 foot class Echota sailed against the Commodore Gardner and was awarded the flag.

McNulty of Chambersburg, Pa., that he will call a meeting of the supreme council to consider the protests against increasing the insurance rates.

A REVIVAL OF WAR NEWS THAT MAY INTEREST RUSSIA.

Japanese Attacking the Russian Position on Tumen River—Invasion of Russian Territory.

London, July 27.—The correspondent of the Daily Telegraph at Tokio sends a report from Osaka, Japan, to the effect that a Japanese army is attacking the Russian position on the Tumen river.

London, July 27.—The Japanese landing at Dekastries, which is the terminus of the only cable line connecting the mainland with the Island of Sakhalien, is regarded by the London morning newspapers as an attempt to seize the mouth of the Amur river in order to enable the Japanese to dispatch an army up that great waterway for the purpose of threatening Russian communications. Japanese gunboats and torpedo boats could thus reach Harbin and give effectual assistance to any attack on Russian fortifications. Both the Ussari and Sungari rivers are navigable for vessels of light draft and thus the Japanese could advance inland in three different directions for a considerable distance. If, as is supposed, Japan has a river expedition in readiness, the mere threat of its advance may suffice to change the plans of the Russians and compel their retirement from the Kirin and Fonghwa districts upon Harbin.

On the Siberian Coast.

St. Petersburg, July 27.—(3:10 a. m.)—Dispatches from Manchuria report the landing of a Japanese battalion and the seizure of a lighthouse on the Siberian coast near Dekastries, a post formerly called Alexandrovsk, 700 miles north of Vladivostok, after a preliminary shelling by torpedo boat destroyers.

CARTER WOULD QUIT HIS HAWAIIAN TASK.

It is Not by any Means an Easy One.

RESIGNATION IS DECLINED.

The Governor of Hawaii Called On President Roosevelt Monday and Requested the Privilege of Retiring From His Official Position—The President Assured Him of His Sympathy and Told Him to Continue His Work.

Oyster Bay, July 24.—A consideration of Hawaiin affairs occupied President Roosevelt's attention for several hours today. He had as a guest at luncheon and during the greater part of the afternoon, Geo. R. Carter, the governor of Hawaii.

Governor Carter came to Oyster Bay determined to resign his official position to escape the annoyance to which he has been subjected since he succeeded Sanford B. Dole as governor. The President not only declined to accept his resignation but told him to go back to Honolulu and he should have the full support and sympathy of the national administration.

Gov. Carter was in a much happier frame of mind after his interview with the President than he had been before. He will take a needed vacation before returning to Hawaii, probably remaining in this country for several weeks. When he returns to Honolulu it will be to resume his official duties with new confidence and vigor.

Gov. Carter scarcely hopes for an early restoration of harmony in Hawaii. He says, however, he will return to the islands determined to continue his fight for what he believes to be best for them and for the people.

A SENSATIONAL ATTEMPT TO KILL A YOUNG WOMAN.

Cornelius McCormick Shot Miss Kittie Murphy at Liberty, N. Y.

Liberty, N. Y., July 26.—Cornelius McCormick, an extensive real estate dealer and one of the most widely known business men in Sullivan county, is a fugitive from justice, charged with attempted murder and Miss Kittie Murphy is at death's door, the result of a bullet wound in the mouth.

The shooting of Miss Murphy occurred on the Main street here last night in the presence of hundreds of persons and created intense excitement. The young woman was walking alone when she met McCormick. He carried the revolver in his hand concealed in a handkerchief and she had no intimation of her danger until the weapon was discharged full in her face. The bullet struck her in the mouth and she fell to the sidewalk unconscious with blood pouring from the wound. McCormick stopped but a second to view his work and then started away between the buildings. He has not yet been found.

It is said that McCormick had been attentive to Miss Murphy for some time but that she discarded him for another suitor a few days ago.

Later—McCormick this evening surrendered to the police. The girl who was shot by him is at death's door.

POLICE RESCUED HIM FROM AN ANGRY MOB.

An Erie Youth Charged With an Atrocious Outrage.

Erie, July 26.—Police officers rescued John Puskus tonight from a mob that had already placed a rope around his neck and appeared ready to lynch him. The crowd was led by John Semple, father of a nine-year-old girl, whom Puskus is said to have attempted to rape about noonday, but was driven away by the girl's mother and elder sister.

Puskus, who is about 19 years old, kept in hiding until nightfall, when he tried to get home, but was caught by Semple and the angry neighbors. They refused to give him up until convinced that he would be severely punished by due process of law.

New Orleans, July 26.—Six deaths from yellow fever were recorded today up to 6 p. m., making a total to date of 45. The number of new cases as reported yesterday and compiled today is 11, making all told to date, 165 cases. There are now 19 centres of infection.

The organization of forces for fighting the spread of the infection and for a campaign of education and practical application of the mosquito extermination plans has been completed and, besides, 100 men have been put on as extras to clean gutters, while 350 men are working as part of the system of sanitation. Citizens are being organized in wards and these ward clubs will form precinct clubs and a house to house canvass will be made to assure the screening of every cistern and the oiling of every cess poll and water pond.

The business men have provided the funds for this work, and as the people are now aroused to the necessity of action, there will be no let up.

THE BUILDINGS ROCKED AND WINDOWS RATTLED.

Michigan Towns Rocked By an Earthquake Or a Mine Explosion.

Calumet, Mich., July 26.—Great excitement was caused this evening by a shock resembling an earthquake. Buildings rocked, and plaster was knocked from walls. Dishes fell to the floor from shelves and broke and people rushed from their homes to ascertain the cause of the disturbance, fearing further shocks. The disturbance is said to be due to an air blast in some of the old workings of the iron mines underlying Calumet.

Marquette, Mich., July 26.—Marquette and other points on the Marquette iron range this evening experienced a distinct shock thought by many to be caused by an earthquake. A dull, tumbling noise, accompanied the disturbance. Tall buildings were swayed, dishes rattled and windows shook, but no damage is reported.

New York, July 26.—At a two hours' session of the Equitable directors today the resignations of former President James W. Alexander and Nevada N. Stranahan as directors were accepted. A NEGRO SURROUNDED IN A DISMAL SWAMP.

Is Accused of Murdering a Trenton Man.

EFFORT TO SMOKE HIM OUT.

The Shrubs and Leaves Set on Fire and it is Believed the Fugitive Will be Driven From His Place of Concealment—Men are Waiting and Ready to Kill Him When He Appears—Reward Offered.

Plainfield, N. J., July 26.—Baffled by treacherous swamps and thick woods, a posse of farmers and police has surrounded Charles Long, a negro, accused of murdering Matthew Cunningham of Trenton. This afternoon they set fire to more than 15 acres of shrubs and bushes on the outskirts of "dismal swamp," between South Plainfield and Newmarket, N. J., in an effort to drive the man out of his hiding place.

A brisk wind blowing over the swamp from the direction in which the fire was started took the smoke through the woods and it is not thought that Long will be able to stay where he is and live. In readiness for his appearance, the members of the posse are armed with shot guns, and should Long make any attempt at resistance he will be killed without hesitancy.

Chief of Police Kiely and Detective McCarthy of this city, in one automobile, and two detectives from Trenton in another, and scores of farmers on horseback are patrolling the big swamp. Long was traced to Dunellen last Saturday by Detectives Pilger and Claney, who had a running fight with the man, but he escaped in a thick piece of woods. Last Monday the negro was discovered at Skelton by Policeman O'Gorman, who fired six shots at him, but failed to hit him.

He was then traced to Newmarket and Chief of Police Kiely of this city and Policeman Higgins took up the chase. They also shot at, but missed him.

The negro was finally driven for refuge into the swamp and it is believed that he cannot again get away.

There is a reward of $250 offered for his capture.

Was He Innocent?

Brookville, Pa., July 26.—Francesca Cefoli was hanged here yesterday for the murder of Pasquali Pallegrino, and died protesting his innocence. So positive were his statements that many people are now convinced that in the man's execution a great mistake has been made. Cefoli was convicted on circumstantial evidence.

TO THE NORTH POLE PEARY IS EN ROUTE.

Made the Start From North Sydney Yesterday.

AN IMMENSE CROWD PRESENT.

The People Cheered and the Whistles of the Steamboats Sounded as the Roosevelt Started on a Voyage That Will Be Historical—Peary Expects to Return in September, 1906—He Seems Confident of Success.

North Sydney, C. B., July 26.—The Arctic steamer Roosevelt, bearing Lieut. Commander Robert E. Peary's latest expedition, swung clear of terminal wharf and headed northward on her voyage of discovery toward the north pole at precisely 2 o'clock this afternoon. As the steamer left the wharf, an immense crowd, which had gathered to witness her departure, burst into cheers which were mingled with the whistles of the steamers and the demonstration continued as the steamer passed down the harbor. The city had been gaily decorated for the occasion.

Lieut. Commander Peary, in speaking of the expedition shortly before his departure, showed firm confidence that the outcome would be successful, in which case he intends to return in September, 1906.

Mrs. Peary and her daughter, who have been with Lieut. Peary in this city, pending his departure, left for New York today.

At the palace the imperial princes and the princesses attended by the royal personages of the emperor's household, the military and naval staffs, members of the cabinet and council of statesmen, assisted in the reception of Secretary Taft and his party.

Minister Griscom made the presentations to the emperor, while Mrs. Griscom performed a like office when the visitors appeared before the empress.

The court presented a brilliant spectacle during the ceremonies.

Mayor Weaver of Philadelphia is not taking a summer vacation this year. Reform before pleasure, is his motto at present.

There is considerable gambling in the United States. Twenty-five millions packs of cards were consumed in America last year. Bridge whist, pedro, pinochle and plain old-fashioned euchre are growing in popularity.

Gov. Pennypacker reviewed the troops at Camp Jones near Erie, on Thursday and found them to be in first class condition. The governor is a man of peace, but he knows a soldier when he sees one.

Men are wanted in Kansas and other Western States to work in the harvest fields, but the demand can not be supplied. The American workingman does not yearn to toil on the farm where there is no eight-hour or ten-hour day, and where the wages are distressingly small.

John Lynn, a Cranberry township oil pumper, in Venango county, was held up by bandits and robbed of 25 cents. But this sum did not represent John's entire stock of cash, by a long shot. He had $85 concealed in one of his shoes and as the highwaymen did not look in his footwear for cash, the money was saved for its owner. Why wouldn't this be a good scheme for Chicago people to adopt?

An investigation of drygoods jobbing conditions has just been completed by the New York Journal of Commerce. It shows an unusual degree of optimism regarding fall prospects for business throughout the country—no section being an exception. Stocks are satisfactory and the half year just ending shows in most instances improvements over the corresponding period of last year both in volume of business and in profits. This is very gratifying and indicates that the American woman continues to clothe herself in fine material.

All the lies which the professional anarchists tell about the cruelty of the rich men in acquiring their riches—all the lies which they circulate about oppression of the poor by the United States government—have proved futile in this country.

They have been futile because they have been lies, or malignant perversions of small and unimportant truths.

But when the pillars of society are exposed as brittle to the core—when men whom the people have widely trusted with their fortunes and the future of their families, and have believed in as models of probity and honor, are found to be but whited sepulchers—then anarchy really gains converts and the institutions of civilization are menaced. Not the lie but the truth is what kills. So says the Chicago Record-Herald, and it is all true.

King Alfonso of Spain is described by a Paris correspondent as "a nice boy," in appearance, with the charm of youth, brimful of illusion, impulsive, impatient, in haste to sow wild oats and to enjoy life in all directions. He rejoices in the motor car, desires to please, has frequent spurts of generous feeling. His smile is sunshine itself, the laugh less attractive, the face at rest harsh. He has a passion for military excitement and distinction. He burns to restore Spanish prestige. He fervently admires Kaiser Wilhelm. In Spain, he takes cavalry regiments on dashing raids, and tires out the men without himself showing a sign of fatigue. He is a perfect equestrian. On foot, he is ungraceful—the build is loose, the spine not proportionate to the lower limbs, the feet and hands very long. The face is long and narrow and he has a loose under lip. His eyes are black. He speaks four languages with fluent ease and purity, but is overcoinble. When he wants to converse he grows flat and even trivial. He is not a thinker.

With a youth of that sort on the throne, Spanish republicans should be able to still further sow the seeds of their political creed among the

In deciding to hold a legislative investigation of the insurance business of New York, the Equitable affair included, Gov. Higgins has shown very commendable judgment. But he should have reached the same conclusion earlier and thereby have silenced the clamor of his critics in advance.

The curfew ordinance stipulates that on the first offense, children found violating the provisions of the act shall be escorted to their homes. This means long tramps by the policemen to different parts of the city every evening. There are not enough officers to perform this sort of duty and at the same time look after adult lawbreakers, and the result is not at all satisfactory. But law is law.

On a recent Sunday the woman pastor of the Primitive Methodist church at Irwin, Pa., had a repairing "bee" at the church. Instead of holding religious services, she had the people of the congregation do some necessary carpenter work. The undertaking was successful and the woman pastor is congratulating herself and flock on their practical Christianity. They would have been arrested for desecrating the Sabbath if the "bee" had been pulled off in some of the towns of Pennsylvania. Irwin people must be rather liberal in their personal liberty views.

Speaking to the miners in the Scranton district on Wednesday, President Mitchell said: "Never in my life have I felt more concerned about the entire mining situation than now. I don't know whether you fully realize what confronts us on April 1st next year. Every miner will be without a contract. Every miner will be in a position to demand what he wants. But while we will have the liberty to make demands, the operators will also be at freedom to make demands on us. There are external evidences that they will have some. On every hand stockades and fences are being built. Places are being filled with every available pound of coal. Indications are that they are preparing to resist your demands or make demands on you."

Judging from the above we are to have another great coal strike, with its far-reaching attendant troubles, and the prospect is not a pleasing one to contemplate.

King Edward of England wears a white plug hat with a black band around it and has set a fashion for all loyal "Johnnies" to copy. It is like an American campaign hat, except in the matteer of material, the latter being more costly than the headgear of practical politicians who march in clubs so bravely during Presidential campaigns. King Edward is likely to have better luck with this innovation than he recently experienced with a new-fashioned crease for the trousers. The crease was located at the side, instead of fore and aft, as established usage requires. The Johnnies, of course, tried the new crease but they looked so absurd that even the fact penetrated their little minds that the fashion was impracticable. However, the light complexioned high hat with its black band, seems destined to win out and become a summer head-piece in many towns and cities of the two great alleged Anglo-Saxon nations—Bradford excepted.

In Bradford any kind of tall hat is unpopular. There are in town great numbers of hats ensconced in hat boxes and rarely exhibited, because local fashion will not stand for them. Occasionally men have become brave here and have defied public opinion by dressing in regulation black, such as undertakers wear, and having the outfit surmounted with a stove-pipe hat, but the wearer has not long persisted in having that sort of covering. Sugar Grove people claim that an earthquake shook their town on Thursday last and they are considerably puffed up with exclusiveness because the quake was felt in no other place. John Redmond has succeeded in defeating the government party in the house of commons on the question of reducing the number of representatives in the British lawmaking body from Ireland. But Balfour is not discouraged. He expects to be able, on a later occasion, to deprive the people of the ill-governed island of adequate representation in parliament. Balfour does not believe in the "square deal" doctrine.

Senator Thomas C. Platt recently celebrated his 72d birthday and in a thoughtful mood gave utterance to these retrospective remarks:

"Seventy-two years of age—a great many days, months and years—some of them fruitful, some barren, but none of them worth the while——

"No, it has not been worth while. It could have been so much better—or at least different from what it is.

"No, I don't think it has been worth while. If I had it to do over again I should model my political life along other lines."

"Would you have the years come back for another chance?" he was asked.

"No," was the reply, "I would not, but I would do much differently."

"Why? How differently?"

"I would rather not say. It would lead to developments. I do not wish anything to develop from the statement that the years have not been worth the battle, or that I would live out a different political policy from the one I have so long pursued."

"Yet you have been successful?"

"Perhaps. I have some dear old friends."

Two years ago when Mr. Platt was 70 he said he would not join the Hundred Year club.

"Five years more will satisfy me," he said on that occasion. That is enough."

"Do you still stand on that declaration?" he was asked on his birthday.

"I do," he replied.

Senator Platt has been successful, as the world regards success, yet he finds that life has been practically a failure with him. His estimate of life is pessimistic—but it is a pessism that comes with old age, when ideals are smashed and practical facts stand out in their true guise. The majority of men and women feel the same way about their careers when the evening shadows fall upon their lives. They realize that human existence is much of a struggle and that the rest and peace in that place beyond, is more desirable. This feeling helps them to be reconciled when Death comes to their doors to bear them away.

From this terrible affliction I was rescued by Electric Bitters, which restored my health and strength, and now I can walk as straight as ever. They are simply wonderful." A story is told of John Fiske which illustrates his frankness. One day his wife had to report to him that their son had been guilty of calling Mrs. Jones, a neighbor, a fool. Prof. Fiske sent for the youngster, and when he appeared in the library, said to him, sternly:

"My son, is it true that you said Mrs. Jones was a fool?"

Hanging his head, the boy replied: "Yes father, I did."

"And did you call Mr. Jones a worse fool?"

"Yes, father."

After a moment's reflection, the famous historian said, slowly: "Well, my son, that is just about the distinction I should make."

The girl who smokes cigarettes and who hopes to conceal the fact, hardly ever succeeds in her designs. Cigarette smoke will out. It stains the fingers and gives a perfume to the breath that can not be mistaken. Girls who smoke cigarettes generally belong to the idle classes of society. Time hangs heavily upon them and they seek for something to break the monotony of comfort and ease to which they are subjected. They have beaus, or course, but it is seldom that any of the latter ever pop the question. And it occurs in the majority of cases that the cigarette smoking girl's matrimonial aspirations all end in smoke. Moral: Don't.

A young woman walking along Lenox avenue yesterday stopped in front of the Knickerbocker Spring Water company's offices and addressing the driver of one of the trucks drawn up to the curb, said:

"Pardon me, but your horse is about to collapse. If I were you I would get a piece of ice and a sponge and some water right away."

The driver and his helpers took her advice, but by the time they had arrived with the ice the horse was staggering. The young woman grabbed the chunk out of the hands of the driver, who stood by, apparently helpless. Alone she forced open the animal's mouth and thrust in the ice. Then she ordered the driver to hold the horse's head. He did, and the animal revived.

About that time Robert R. Tarr, manager of the company's offices, appeared. He thanked the young woman and asked her name. "Why," said she, "my name is Alice Dudley. I'm a nurse in St. Luke's hospital. I have done the same thing for human beings many times but this is the first time I ever tried it on a horse."—New York Sun.

"'Oh,' the widow answered, brightening, 'the French. The French by all means. Poor John could never bear Italian cooking.'

Oil City, July 21.—Yesterday's races proved a very rude awakening for some of the old timers in the Lake Erie circuit.

The sure things that had been played by the wise boys who got a line on them at Olean and Bradford fell down and thereby hangs a tale. It appears that the races at Indiana are on this week and the pool selling was prohibited by the race track people, which so angered a number of horse owners that they shipped four car loads of ordinary everyday nags to Oil City to compete in the different events. They were all farm "hosses" and could go a fair clip, but were not grand circuit performers. They sold for a few shillings in the pools and no one bought tickets on them but a few old agriculturists. The final results of the three races showed that the farmers had won every event in easy style and made a nice cleaning up among the wise sports that followed them here.

Representative Julius Kahn of California, tells a grimly humorous tale illustrative of the guile of "the heathen Chinee," says the New York Times.

One day it appears that Dennis Spencer, a prominent criminal attorney of Napa, in the State mentioned, was the recipient of a call from a Chinese, who was without circumlocution at once put this question:

"'Spose, Mr. Spencer, one Chinaman kill 'nother Chinaman with a hatchet, how much you charge make him clear?"

"Oh," exclaimed the lawyer carelessly, "I'd take the case for $500."

The Chinaman vanished without a word. In about a week he returned and laid the sum of $500 on Mr. Spencer's desk.

"What's this for?" asked the lawyer.

"You say you take the case for $500," explained the Oriental.

A slight hesitation upon Mr. Spencer's part, but he exclaimed:

"You mean to tell me that since I saw you last one of your countrymen has been killed?"

"Certainly," calmly answered the Chinaman. "I kill him last night."

DON'T EXPERIMENT.

You Will Make No Mistake If You Follow This Bradford Citizen's Advice.

Never neglect your health.

If you have pain in the back, urinary disorders, dizziness and nervousness, it's time to act and no time to experiment. These are all symptoms of kidney trouble, and you should use a remedy which is known to cure these troubles safely and surely.

Doan's Kidney Pills is that remedy and if you wish to be cured of kidney disease without experimenting, do not fail to use it.

J. S. Northrop, with the Bradford Produce company, residing at 14 Gay street, Bradford, Pa., says: "It is now some six years since Mrs. Northrop gave for publication a statement concerning my experiences with Doan's Kidney Pills. She referred to the fact that previous to the use of this medicine I had considerable trouble with pains in my back. These words scarcely expressed the terrible suffering that I did endure at that time. Those who have had this trouble will know what I was forced to bear and will realize my condition when I state that often on going home for my meals I had to ask my wife to apply hot bandages to my back to relieve me of the terrible pain so that I could straighten up. I tried many different remedies but got no help until I began using Doan's Kidney Pills, which I procured at Thompson & Wood's drug store. They freed me entirely from all these difficulties and during the six years which have elapsed since my first trial I can say that whenever I have noticed any indications of a return of the trouble, Doan's Kidney Pill have promptly removed it."

HOME FROM CAMP JONES: COMPANY C HAS RETURNED.

The Troops Are in Good Spirits and Made a Good Showing in Percentages—Notable Camp Wedding.

Company C returned on Saturday night fro mthe annual encampment at Erie bearing evidence of the 10 days' work under the hot rays of a July sun. The company succeeded in winning the battalion prize of $50 but in the final drill for the regimental banner, awarded to the best company, finished second, being unable to overcome the five point handicap awarded to Company M, for leading in the spring inspection. Company M, with its five points, only beat the Bradford soldiers by two points. Of the 12 prizes offered sentinels in guard duty, Company C captured eight of them, but four of the awards going to the remaining 11 companies of the regiment.

On Friday evening Private James Stewart of Company C and Miss Fannie Davis of Bradford, were united in marriage in the presence of the 16th regiment at Erie. The ceremony was performed in Gen. Hulings' tent, the attendants including the officers of Company C and the wives and daughters of the officers of the regiment. Chaplain M. Silsley was the clerical officiant and the ceremonies incident to the marriage were in accordance with military principles, the wedding being the first of its kind to be celebrated in the annals of the National Guard. At the conclusion of the nuptial rites the young couple were escorted through a double line of soldiers to an automobile and were then taken to the home of a relative in the city of Erie. Pictures of the principals in the marriage appeared in Sunday's Pittsburg and Philadelphia papers. The officers of the regiment presented Mr. and Mrs. Stewart with a substantial sum of money as a wedding present.

Erie, July 21.—"The age of chivalry is not past. The romance of love and the romance of arms still go hand in hand, just as they did in the days of Bayard and Guiscard. My advice to all young men is to go and get married."

So said Gen. Willis J. Hulings of the Sixteenth regiment to the members of Company C of Bradford tonight. A few minutes before, under the flickering torch of regimental headquarters, Private James Stewart and Miss Fannie Davis, both of Bradford, were united in marriage by Capt. Frank M. Silsley, chaplain of the regiment.

The wedding will make Camp Jones memorable in the hearts of the young soldiers who stood there tonight and listened to the words of the chaplain. It was a military wedding and right proud of the ceremony were the officers and comrades of the young soldier, who stole a bride away from camp. The Sixteenth regiment band played a stirring march and showers of rice rained upon the happy couple as they rode over the guard line in an automobile, while the bugles of the brigade sounded the roll call of the troops.

Several days ago Miss Davis intimated that she desired a military wedding. She arrived in camp yesterday afternoon from Westfield, N. Y., and was greeted with a cheer by the boys, who at that very moment were pressing their blue uniforms and preparing for the evening ceremony.

After guard mount last night the bride stepped out in a pretty gown of white organdie silk. Beside her walked Mrs. David Stewart of Bradford, matron of honor. A bouquet of flowers gathered from the beach where Comodore Perry launched his flagship, the Niagara, adorned the table in the headquarters tent. The regimental band struck up the wedding march from "Lohengrin." Around the regimental street stood the enlisted men of the Sixteenth, with uncovered heads, while Gen. Hulings, Mrs. Hulings, Miss Florence Hulings, Miss Emma Hulings, Mrs. R. B. Gamble, Mrs. Spencer, Miss Hyde, Mrs. E. Lowry Humes and other ladies of the regiment occupied the platform in headquarters.

The soldiers of Company C in their blue uniforms escorted the bridegroom to the tent, with Capt. Joseph F. Robinson and Lieuts. Alonzo Ingram and Lewis Newell, officers of the company. Gen. Hulings gave the bride away. The ceremony was brief. A fervent prayer by Chaplain Silsley followed. The general kissed the bride, Company C opened ranks, and amid a shower of rice Mr. and Mrs. Stewart walked to an automobile which was waiting to take them on their honeymoon journey.

While the automobile was spinning away, and the inspiring music of the band still floated far away on the night air, the Bradford boys refused to return to quarters until Gen. Hulings consented to comply to their demands for a speech. The officer who has led many of the boys against the Spaniard's at Coamo walked out beneath the torch and reminded his soldiers that the age of chivalry was not past.

Sunday Morning Fire.

The building at No. 79 Corydon street was gutted by a fire that occurred Sunday morning. Some of the inmates were not yet out of their beds when an explosion of gas filled the rooms with flames. Mrs. Judd Jones occupied the lower apartments and Mrs. Tabiere lived up stairs. The total loss is estimated at $1,200. Insurance light.

BOARD OF TRADE MET AND CONSIDERED MATTERS.

A resolution was adopted expressing the board's friendly interest in the affairs of the Bradford Clyde club and pledging hearty co-operation.

The report of the Fifth Ward Industrial association regarding stock placed for a certain proposed new industry showed that $7,550 worth of shares have been placed. The committee on manufactures was instructed to assist in placing the remaining stock as soon as feasible.

The Terra Cotta company reported that it would soon decide upon a location for its proposed plant. Several other towns have offered inducements of a tempting character and if Bradford people wish to secure the industrily for this city they will be required to take prompt action in the matter of subscribing for stock.

QUEER JAPTY LEGEND OF COUNTRY'S ORIGIN.

The Islands Were Drops of Water From Swords of Certain Gods.

(From Saturday's Daily Era.)

Mr. Kiyu Sue Inui last night delivered a lecture at the Church of Eternal Hope on "The Progress of Japan." He began by giving the legendary origin of the country and sketched its history through various ages of development to the present day. The legends of Japan account for the origin of the island empire in this way: The gods came down from their place of residence in the sky and dipped their swords in the sea. The drops which fell from their weapons, after the latter had been withdrawn from the water, fell into the ocean, became hardened, and the Japanese isles resulted.

The speaker described many of the processes whereby Japan has attained its present greatness and paid especial tribute to Commodore Perry, who gave Japan an open door 60 years ago. Japan's system of education, based largely on that of America, the speaker said, was responsible for the national awakening which has taken place. He proudly referred to his countrymen as the Yankees of the East. The lecture was of absorbing interest and very instructive.

ACCOSTED BY YOUNG MEN; AN OLD LADY FRIGHTENED.

A Policeman Arrived on the Spot And Was Surprised.

(From Tuesday's Daily Era).

Last night an elderly lady was frightened by two young men who accosted her in a somewhat familiar manner, offering to escort her to her home. The woman was much frightened and seeing Officer Murphy in the vecinity she hurried in his direction and excitedly told of her experiences. She desired that both of the rowdies be arrested at once. Officer Murphy approached the unmannerly young men and demanded an explanation. In piping, feminine tones they said that they were only joking. They were not young men at all—just a couple of Fourth Ward girls who had attired themselves in men's clothing for fun. Their doll-like features, long, rolled up hair and other tell-tale surface indications convinced the officer that they were girls in disguise. In a stern and indignant manner he told them that they should be ashamed of themselves and then he permitted them, on promise of better behavior, to make a home run. This occurred on Kennedy street.

GEORGE BAKER WOUNDED BY A BOLIVAR BRAWLER.

The Injured Man Received a Bullet Intended For Another Person. Was Brought Here.

George Baker, whose home is on East Main street, was the victim, Saturday night of a peculiar shooting affray at Bolivar, N. Y. Baker, who has been employed there for some time, was crossing the street in front of a hotel where a crowd of brawlers were indulging in a drunken altercation. Baker did not know the men, nor was he of their party. One of the disturbers pulled a revolver and fired into the crowd. There was an immediate scattering and the fellow shot a second time. His second shot struck Baker on the left knee cap, inflicting a serious wound. The man who did the shooting had intended to hit another person, with whom he was quarreling, but that fact did not mend matters for the Bradford man. Baker was taken to Dr. McKenzie's office nearby and given surgical attention. The shooter succeeded in escaping and has not since been located.

Baker was brought to this city on Sunday morning. The bullet has not yet been located and owing to the fact that it has punctured the knee cap, the effects, it is feared, will be serious.

A Long Sentence.

New York, July 24.—What was practically a life sentence in Sing Sing prison today was imposed upon Edward E. Neidlinger, an aged man, who last week was convicted of improper conduct in connection with so-called flower clubs which he organized for little girls. Nineteen years and 10 months, within two months of the extreme penalty of the law, was the sentence of the court.

Neidinger formerly lived in Jamestown, N. Y. He was recently described by a lawyer as "the vilest man in the world."

Colonel Windsor of the Sixteenth Regiment, who is very fond of posing in a neat white flannel uniform, especially when the parade ground is lined with pretty girls, asked Captain Spencer, Company C, to take charge of the battalion last evening and ride his horse. Although the captain was raised on a farm he has a fear of doing any stunts on horseback and consequently the colonel was doomed to change his clothes. The result of this sad affair is that Captain Spencer received orders to take a horse up into the woods and learn to ride.

IT WAS AMATEUR'S NIGHT AT THE VAUDEVILLE SHOW.

And Youthful Local Entertainers Appeared in Specialties.

(From Saturday's Daily Era.)

The Gilmour & Latour show last night drew a large and well pleased audience, the occasion being amateur night. A quartet of Bradford girls, the Misses Margaret Walker, Lottie Gaines, Alice McLoughlin and Ruth Frederick appeared in a clever rendition of the "Happy Jappy Soldier Man"; Margaret Emington rendered vocal selections; Belle Ray and Olive Newton, two bright little lasses, sang "Bluebell." The Misses Gardinkle, Pilk and Schilling presented a pleasing vocal number; Diks & Wade appeared in a battle royal, and little "Dutch" Baker, a 10-year-old lad, made the hit of the evening in a funny Hebrew monologue turn. He was given the prize. All the young performers were warmly applauded and encored and their work was very well done. Other regular features of the show were also much enjoyed. This afternoon a children's matinee will be given. Tonight the Root-Gardner light will be shown in moving pictures and tomorrow evening a sacred concert will be given.

Fire at Midnight.

(From Friday's Daily Era).

At midnight an alarm from box 51 summoned the fire department to the corner of Main and High streets. The building at No. 213-215 Main street, owned by the Edgett estate, and occupied down stairs by J. W. Cooley, newsdealer, and G. Lucco, barber, and upstairs by Mrs. F. E. Perryman, took fire, the cause of the blaze being a defective gas jet. The fire was quickly extinguished by the use of chemicals, but the contents of the building were badly damaged by smoke and water.

JAPAN WILL DEMAND MONEY FROM RUSSIA

Komura Gives Out a Guarded, Diplomatic Tip.

THE WAR TO END NEXT MONTH.

The Plenipotentiary is Confident That Peace Negotiations Will Result in a Cessation of Hostilities—Terms Have Been Formulated By the Mikado and His Advisers and Are State Secrets—In the War, So Far, 575,000 Men Have Been Slain—Armistice Question.

New York, July 25.—That Japan will demand an indemnity of Russia in the negotiations for peace, and that the war will be declared at an end at the conclusion of the negotiations at Portsmouth, N. H., next month, is the belief of Baron Komura, head of the Japanese peace delegation, who arrived here today, as voiced by Amir Sato, who is the official spokesman for the baron on this mission. Mr. Sato in an interview tonight, said:

"I am confident that peace will be successfully negotiated by the delegates. Japan will be guided by moderation and no excessive demands will be made, but the sentiment in Japan and Russia is for peace, and in the interests of humanity and propriety there must be peace.

"The cost to Japan, however, has been very great. On both sides the loss has been 575,000 men, Russia losing 470,000 of these. The war is costing Japan $1,000,000 a day and there is a feeling that there ought to be an indemnity."

Asked as to the probability of an armistice, he said that that would probably be among the first questions the plenipotentiaries would consider.

Basing the form of the negotiations on the previous treaty negotiations, Japan will make the demands for Russia's consideration, He said:

"The peace terms while held inviolate by those who know their text, were formulated by the Emperor of Japan and his council."

Mr. Sato was asked if in the flush of victory the Japanese people would not feel entitled to more than ordinary treaty would allow, and Mr. Sato said:

"The Japanese are not so gentle as to abide by any decision we may make, but they pay great respect to the office of President Roosevelt, and his acts have done a great deal to emphasize the need for peace."

Mr. Sato further said that the Japanese would prefer to have the negotiations in the English language, as neither Baron Komura nor himself speaks French. The matter, however, would be settled after President Roosevelt had met the two commissioners.

Of the attitude of the Japanese plenipotentiaries toward the Russian delegates, Mr. Sato said:

"We admire M. Witte and the Baron Rosen. The announcement of M. Witte's appointment to the peace party was more welcome to us than that of any other person that could have been. Japan regards him as a great statesman."

Of the future of China, Mr. Sato said:

"If the central government could work in harmony with the district or provincial governments, China would become a great power, but at present that seems to be impossible."

Japan's attitude toward China was most friendly, said Mr. Sato, and while maintaining no moral Monroe doctrine over the empire, she felt that it was more or less under Japan's protection. This protection, by way of illustration, Mr. Sato said, was "Not so strong over China as that of the United States over South America."

Mr. Sato emphasized the statement made frequently before that Japan does not seek territorial aggrandizement, and on this point the speaker said:

"We want in Manchuria equal opportunity, or what Mr. Hay called the open door."

In response to further questions Mr. Sato said that Japan is overpopulated and that in the opening up of Manchuria and Korea an attractive field for immigration would be nearer home than offered in Hawaii and America.

Mr. Sato said that while a desire for peace was the sentiment of Japan, it was not a desire for peace at any price.

"Japan is in a very prosperous condition at present," he said, "and the war taxes do not fall heavily upon the people yet."

As to Japan's attitude toward America, Mr. Sato laughingly asked, "You mean the yellow peril," and then became more serious than on any other topic.

He said:

"We are almost boyish in our enthusiasm and friendship for America. While we are friendly with China as Orientals, our greatest friends are America and England. Why, the first monument ever erected to any foreigner in Japan was that to Commodore Perry, and the policy and conduct of the American people for the last 50 years has been of help to us. We regard America as an ally without a treaty."

The question was put to Mr. Sato as to any possibility of conflict with the United States in the future, as suggested by some of the American press at the outbreak of the war and Mr. Sato asked what could bring about such a conflict. When it was suggested that Japan might covet the Philippine islands, he laughed heartily, and replied that Japan would not have the Philippines as a gift, even though a bonus accompanied the gift.

Baron Komura and his party arrived early today from Chicago and proceeded at once to the Waldorf Astoria, where they will be quartered until his departure for Portsmouth. There was no demonstration beyond the presence of a few newspapermen and members of the Nippon club, who shook hands with the members of the party.

OIL FIRE AT SOUR LAKE STARTED BY LIGHTNING.

It Entails a Loss of 130,000 Barrels of Petroleum—Humble Fire Out.

Beaumont, Tex., July 25.—The loss suffered by the Texas Company at the Humble oil field by the burning of approximately 2,500,000 barrels of oil, was augmented this afternoon at Sour Lake, where lightning struck a tank containing 130,000 barrels belonging to the same company, and another tank containing 100,000 barrels, all of which will be a total loss.

Houston, Tex., July 25.—The fire in the Texas Company's tanks at the Humble oil fields is practically extinguished tonight. There is still a bit of oil in the bottom of the 11th tank, but this, it is thought, will be burned out before morning. The charred remains of eight persons have been found and the search still continues.

TOOK CARBOLIC ACID TO END HER TROUBLES.

Buffalo Girl Who Had Left Her Home—Two Men in the Case.

Rome, N. Y., July 25.—Maggie Mahaney of Rome, aged 20, committed suicide this morning by taking carbolic acid. Up to two months ago she had lived in Buffalo for a year and a half, where she had been employed in a hotel or boarding house. She had kept company with a young man here, named John McGill, to whom her mother objected. She therefore left her mother's house, and went to live with her sister, Mrs. Gilbert Johnson where McGill was allowed to call. He was there last evening and this morning. He said that she had threatened to commit suicide, and while he was momentarily out of the room, she took a dose of carbolic acid.

Policemen and physicians who were summoned, found her lying on a couch in her night robe. She was in a delicate condition, considerably advanced.

Last Sunday a man, who said he was from Buffalo, came here to look for her. He told her mother that he kept the hotel where the girl worked and had come to get her to go back with him. When he met the girl they kissed. He asked her to go riding with him, but she declined. Then he asked her to take a walk and she consented. He went to a hotel to get his dinner and she went to a neighbor's and remained, to avoid going out with him.

She told the neighbor that the man was a commercial traveler from Buffalo, whose wife was a dear friend.

TWO FATAL FIRES OCCUR; CHILDREN ARE CREMATED.

One Was in Braddock, Pa., and the Other in Denver, Col.

Braddock, July 25.—Two children of Levi Tagressa were burned to death and the mother and another child fatally burned, Tuesday morning. Two other members of the family were also burned seriously. Gasoline exploded. The house was destroyed.

Denver, July 25.—While Sabbatino di Domenico and his wife were working in their market garden in Retreat Park, Adams County, Col., three of their children were burned to death and the oldest, eight years of age, was terribly injured, in a fire which destroyed their summer kitchen.

The Firemen's Convention.

Secretary McAllister of the Bradford firemen's executive committee having in charge the arrangements for the forthcoming convention in this city, is daily in receipt of acceptances of invitations to participate in the parade and exercises in Bradford, Aug. 8-11. Hose companies in Ohio, New York, West Virginia, Maryland and Pennsylvania have signified their intentions of being here and the indications are that the 11th annual convention of the Northwestern Firemen's association will be the most successful in the history of the organization.

CHOLERA INFANTUM.

Child Not Expected to Live From One Hour to Another, but Cured by Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

Ruth, the little daughter of E. N. Dewey of Agnewville, Va., was seriously ill of Cholera infantum last summer. "We gave her up and did not expect her to live from one hour to another," he says. "I happened to think of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and got a bottle of it from the store. In five hours I saw a change for the better. We kept on giving it and before she had taken the half of one small bottle she was well." This remedy is for sale by Thompson & Wood, Bradford, and J. Calhoun & Son, East Bradford, druggists.

Portland, Ore., July 25.—United States Senator Mitchell, convicted of using his office of United States senator to further the law practice of the firm of Mitchell & Tanner of this city, was today sentenced to pay a fine of $1,000 and six months' penal servitude. Pending a review of the case by the supreme court of the United States, execution of the sentence will be deferred.

THE DEMOCRATS MET AT THE COUNTY SEAT

Did Not Nominate a Full County Ticket.

QUITE A LARGE ATTENDANCE.

For Sheriff Thomas J. Fennerty Was Nominated—J. C. Mills Withdrew as a Candidate for County Commissioner, Leaving W. P. Walsh and John P. Devlin on the Ticket—C. P. Byron and John Miskell Bolt the Convention.

Smethport, July 25.—(Special)—The following named candidates were nominated here this afternoon by the Democratic county convention:

For sheriff—Thomas J. Fennerty of Bradford.

For district attorney—E. Wallace Mullin of Bradford.

For county commissioners—W. P. Walsh of Smethport and John P. Devlin of Bradford.

For county auditors—W. J. Ovlatt, Smethport, and A. R. Cory, Farmers Valley.

For prothonotary—Leo Wise of Bradford.

For clerk of court—C. J. Bagley, Mt. Jewett.

J. C. Mills of Duke Centre was put in nomination for county commissioner, but before the balloting was finished, he withdrew from the contest.

Interest was aroused by the action of Messrs. John Howe and James Daly in contesting the election of Delegates Byron and Miskell of the Second ward, Bradford. It was intimated that certain Republican players had voted for the two gentlemen last named. The credentials committee took the matter under advisement and decided to grant each of the four claimants for positions as delegates from the Second ward, the right to cast one-half a vote, respectively, two votes for the four. C. P. Byron is a prominent party worker who has always given time and money to advance the party's interests, and, very naturally, he objected to not having a full vote. In a brief statement he informed the convention that he knew nothing about any alleged jobbery in the caucus and thereupon promptly withdrew. Delegate Miskell did likewise, leaving Messrs. Howe and Daly to act as delegates.

The convention was called to order at 2 o'clock by County Chairman Healey and M. F. Flaherty of Bradford was chosen to act as temporary chairman. He presided very ably over the assemblage. John Calhoun and John Garrigan of Bradford were elected to act as secretaries.

Mr. Healey was asked to succeed himself as county chairman, but declined, the honor, George B. Montgomery of Kane being elected unanimously to preside over the party's affairs in the county.

Among those who addressed the convention were Messrs. J. W. Healey, M. F. Flaherty and George C. Fagnan. Much enthusiasm was evinced and the attendance was large. Forty-three of the 45 districts in the county were represented. Bradford, as usual, figured largely in the proceedings.

Mr. Bagley, nominated for clerk of the court, positively stated that he would not be a candidate and would make no run. Following are the resolutions adopted by the convention:

The Resolutions.

The representatives of the Democratic Party of McKean county, assembled in annual convention, deem it meet and proper to briefly set forth their views on questions now confronting the people. The principles of self government, as formulated by Thomas Jefferson and exemplified by a long list of illustrious Democratic statesmen, have enabled this people to maintain the principle of individual freedom and representative government, and must continue in force or the republic will fall.

The Republican party for the first time in its history has given us a President whose declarations and actions indicate a radical departure from the conduct and policies of his predecessors which show that the principles for which the Democratic party has always contended, have so influenced the President's actions, that he has adopted the Democratic war cry of "Equal rights to all and special privileges to none," and in this departure from the established methods and policies of his party, he has the endorsement and support of the leader of the Democratic party in Congress, John S. Williams, with the approval of William Jennings Bryan and all the other great men of the party.

The great Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, for half a century without a peer among the States of our Union, either in material wealth, population, or the greatness of her sons, has, under the Republican control, fallen so low, the leaders of the Republican party have become so corrupt, her legislature has enacted such iniquitous measures, and the general character of everything pertaining to the political management of the State is so devoid of moral tone, moral sentiment or honor, that Pennsylvania in the conventions of other States, in their political gatherings, in their legislatures and in our national house of representatives, is referred to as a deep, dark, damnable disgrace in American politics.

The attempts of Mayor Weaver of Philadelphia to undo some of the wrongs and infamies imposed upon the people of that disgraceful city by the political machine that rules our state meets with the hearty approval of this convention, and the endorsement of Judge Stewart by our state committee shows that the Democratic party of the state of Pennsylvania, in its desire to retrieve the State from misrule, stands ready to ignore all partisan advantage for the public good.

The ticket put in nomination today commands the respect and confidence of all, and should, and we trust it will, be elected. And we, as representatives of the Democratic party, pledge ourselves to do all that duty and honor and patriotism require to redeem Pennsylvania from the embrace of the political bandits who have prostrated her for base purposes, and we will not rest until she is restored to her once proud place among the states of our Union.

LIGHTNING STRUCK A TANK AND A BIG FIRE RESULTED.

The Receptacle Contained 238,000 Barrels of Texas Oil—Eleven Other Tanks Were in Danger.

Humboldt, Tex., July 23.—Fire started today in a tank, belonging to the Texas Oil Co., caused by lightning striking the oil. The fire was held under control all the afternoon, but it began to spread tonight, and 12 tanks will probably be destroyed.

Eleven of the tanks contain 200,000 barrels of oil each, and the one struck had 238,000 barrels. The loss up to 11 o'clock tonight is estimated at $250,000 and the fire still raging. There are rumors but no confirmation of losses of human life.

Houston, Tex., July 24.—It is reported from the oil field at Humble that the fire which has been burning there for 48 hours has spread to the tanks of the Guffey company. The property loss, therefore, will be enormous. Eighteen men are missing, 10 of whom are believed to have perished in the flames.

One Dollar Saved Represents Ten Dollars Earned.

The average man does not save to exceed 10 per cent of his earnings. He must spend nine dollars in living expenses for every dollar saved. That being the case he cannot be too careful about unnecessary expenses. Very often a few cents properly invested, like buying seeds for his garden, will save several dollars outlay later on. It is the same in buying Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It costs but a few cents, and a bottle of it in the house often saves a doctor's bill of several dollars. For sale by Thompson & Wood, Bradford, and J. Calhoun & Son, East Bradford, druggists.

THE RIKSDAG PLANS PEACE PROPOSITION.

If the Norwegians Really Do Desire Separation,

A VOTE MUST FIRST BE TAKEN.

Stockholm, Sweden, July 25.—A special committee appointed by the riksdag to deal with the crisis which created the revolution in Norway today delivered its report. The committee declares unanimously that the government bill cannot be adopted in the form in which it was presented to the riksdag and proposes that the riksdag shall signify its willingness to negotiate with Norway for a dissolution of the union if the newly elected storthing requests a repeal of the act of union or if such request is received from Norway after the Norwegian people by a plebiscite, have declared in favor of a dissolution of the union.

Cabinet Resigns.

Stockholm, July 25.—The cabinet has resigned.

Question For Roosevelt.

Washington, July 25.—The question of the recognition of Norway as an independent state is now before President Roosevelt, having been referred to him by Assistant Secretary of State Adee. On numerous occasions it has happened that a revolutionary party asked to be recognized as an independent nation, but Norway has not seceded from Sweden through a revolution, but merely has taken back the sovereignty which once had been given to the king of Sweden. Many private Norwegian citizens have asked the United States to recognize the new state and C. Hague, who until the secession was first secretary of the legation of Sweden and Norway, has presented a more or less formal request to the state department which, however, has no official authority. All these requests have been referred to the president.

A Corner in Flaxseed.

Minneapolis, July 24.—Hit by a corner in flaxseed, the Minneapolis Linseed Oil industry is in a state of temporary paralysis. Of the eight mills in Minneapolis, only the Western mill of the American Linseed Oil Co., and the Daniels, an independent mill, are still being operated. Two of the largest mills in the world, the Minnesota and the Midland are idle. The two latter and independent mills.

BIGLER JOHNSON HANGED FOR MURDER OF HIS WIFE.

It is Also Charged That He Killed the Woman's Niece—Entire Family Implicated.

Towanda, Pa., July 25.—Bigler Johnson was hanged today. The drop fell at 10:10 and Johnson was pronounced dead eight minutes later.

The crime for which Bigler Johnson was executed was the murder of his wife, Margaret, from whom he had separated, and her niece, Annie Benjamin, aged 10 years, on September 18, 1904. It was alleged by the prosecution that the Johnson family, consisting of five persons, went to the home of Mrs. Bigler Johnson and with an axe killed the woman and the girl. The Johnsons, it was also charged, set fire to the house in an effort to conceal their crime. The entire family was arrested. Bigler pleaded guilty and the trial judge fixed the grade of guilt as murder in the first degree. Chas. Johnson, a brother of Bigler, stood trial and was convicted of murder in the first degree. He is awaiting the determination of his case by the courts on an appeal. Bigler Johnson appealed to the supreme court but that tribunal refused to interfere.

The other members of the Bigler family were acquitted. Bigler Johnson made several confessions. In one he implicated his brother, Charles, but in a confession given out last night he exonerated him from all blame.

HE HAD BEEN DRINKING AND BECAME MURDEROUS.

One Woman Killed and Two Other Persons Wounded in a Chicago Affray.

Chicago, July 24.—Mrs. James Griffin, 24 years old, was shot and instantly killed and two other persons were wounded by Timothy Dooling, at Fifty-Second avenue and West Twelfth street today. Dooling then killed himself. The wounded are Annie Griffin, 17 years old, shot in the back of the head, and Patrick Dooling, father of the suicide, who was shot in the left cheek.

For some time, it is declared, Dooling has been drinking. Today he entered his home and when members of the family refused to obey orders to drink from a bottle Dooling had in his hand, the young man began shooting. The first bullet struck Mrs. Griffin in the left arm. The second struck her in the heart and she fell to the floor dead. Then the others attempted to run from the kitchen. Dooling followed and shot each down. Patrick Dooling may die from his wound. Seeing a crowd of neighbors running toward the house, young Dooling shot himself through the head, blowing out his brains.

A dead dog, found in the Public Square Tuesday evening, furnishes proof that the mysterious dog poisoner was still in town and having one of his spells. Only a few days ago he attempted to end the existence of another valuable canine, but prompt medical attention saved the animal's life.

West of Bakerstown, in Allegheny county, the Pittsburg, Rose & Carnation Co.'s test on the Cristal farm is a good producer in the fourth sand, when shot last week the well did not respond, but was cleaned out and then began to flow and is now producing 75 bbls a day. The size of this well is such as to be the incentive for starting some new work.

In the lower southwest fields the Yellow Creek development in Calhoun county, is to the front with a brace of good producers. The South Penn Oil Co. has drilled its second test on the Martin Carnden farm through the Berea Grit and has a producer good for 75 bbls a day. In the same district the Garnaty Oil Co. has completed its test on the J. W. Batton lot and has a 60 bbl producer. On Big Camp Run, Judge Nathan Goff's No. 39 is holding up at 40 bbls a day.

In the Bonds Creek district in Ritchie county, the Centreville Oil Co. completed its No. 5 on the J. O. Graham farm and has a 10 bbl pumper in the Keener. In the River Front district, in Wood county, J. M. Henric has completed his No. 5 on the Morgan Henric farm and has developed a 10 bbl pumper in the second Cow Run sand. In the Eureka district, Pleasants county, the Everson Oil Co. has completed its No. 14 on the E. N. Cox farm and has a producer, good for 100 bbls a day from the Berea Grit.

From the fields on the Ohio side nothing but light pumpers were reported today.

Pittsburg, July 25.—(Special)—North of Mannington Marion county, the South Penn Oil Co. has drilled its test on the C. Toothman farm into the Big Injun and the hole has filled up 900 feet with fluid. Near Sedalia, Doddridge county, the Carnegie Gas Co. has completed a test on the L. C. Tate farm and has a very good gasser. In the gasite locality, the Hope Natural Gas Co. has completed a test on the I. H. Ford farm and has a fair gasser.

In the Yellow Creek district, Calhoun county, the South Penn Oil Co. has drilled its test on the B. Clayton farm through the Berea Grit and has a show for a 15 bbl pumper.

On Limestone Creek, in Cold district, the Button Gas Co. has drilled its test on the John R. Flynn farm through the Gordon and has a fair gasser. On Horn Creek, Troy district, Gilmore county, the Crude Oil Co. has made the location for a test on the O. P. Cox farm. This company has leased a block of 12,000 or 15,000 acres in that locality and will drill a number of tests.

On the Ohio side, in the Newport district, the Heasley Oil Co. has drilled its test on the A. H. Britton farm into the first Cow Run sand and has a show for a 40 bbl producer. At New Matamoras the Camden Oil Co. has completed its No. 5 on the A. F. Fauble farm and has a 10 bbl pumper. In the same district P. E. Schmitt and Co. have drilled in their second test on the G. A. Shapley farm and have a show for a 75 bbl producer.

West of the Bakerstown tunnel, Allegheny county, leasing is quite active. The Pittsburg, Rose & Carnation Co.'s well on the Crystal farm is reported as holding up at 75 bbls a day. By the end of another week there will be several wells drilling.

Some are old wells that will be drilled down and others are new.

Pittsburg, July 26.—(Special)—In Southeastern Ohio, the new pool on Wells creek, north of Steubenville, Jefferson county, is improving as development work progresses. There is no longer any doubt but a pool of some dimensions will be developed. As yet the work has been confined to a small area but the producing formation has been found regular and the wells of a good average in size. In this district, Castner Bros. have just drilled in their No. 7 on the W. P. Blueke farm and have a show for a natural producer good for 75 bbls a day. With this well as good as indicated and the other five producers on the farm, gives the Castner Bros. a production of close to 300 bbls a day. In the Plum Run district, Harrison county, the Barricklow Oil Co., has completed its No. 7 on the Barricklow heirs' farm and has a five bbl pumper in the Berea Grit. In the Marietta district, in Washington county, George L. Craig & Co. have completed their No. 20 on the Reppert heirs' farm and have a 15 bbl pumper.

In the Yellow Creek district, Calhoun county, the South Penn Oil Co. has drilled its second test on the S. R. Clayton farm through the Berea Grit and has a 20 Bbl producer.

A TERRIFIC EXPLOSION!

Thirty-Nine of a Naval Crew Dead.

100 SAILORS INJURED.

Many Men are Missing--Disaster on the United States Gunboat Bennington, at San Diego

ONE OF THE BOILERS BLEW UP.

On Board the Bennington at the Time Were 250 Men and Many Were Hurled Into the Sea When the Explosion Took Place—The Gunboat Was in the Harbor and Getting Ready to Start on a Trip—The Disaster Came Without Warning and the Scenes of Death and Destruction Which Followed Were Appalling—The Magnificent Battleship Was Badly Damaged and Had to Be Beached to Save It From Sinking.

San Diego, Cal., July 21.—Twenty-eight members of the crew of the United States gunboat Bennington were killed and nearly 100 sailors were injured, some fatally, at 10 o'clock this forenoon by a boiler explosion that disabled the battleship in San Diego harbor. Fifteen sailors are missing.

There were more than 250 men aboard the warship when the accident occurred, and many men were hurled or forced to jump into the sea by the terrific explosion, which lifted part of the deck and compelled the beaching of the ship.

The Bennington at the time of the accident was lying in the stream just off the commercial wharf at H street. The warship had received orders from the navy department at Washington to sail this morning for Port Harford to meet the monitor Wyoming and convoy the monitor to Mare Island navy yard, San Francisco.

Steam was up and everything was in readiness for the departure of the Bennington, when the starboard forward boiler exploded with a deafening roar.

The explosion was terrific. People standing on shore saw a huge cloud of steam rise above the Bennington. Columns of water were forced high into the air.

A dozen or 15 men were blown overboard by the force of the terrific explosion. Capt. Wentworth, who was looking at the Bennington when the disaster occurred, says he saw human bodies hurled over 100 feet upward. The air was clouded with smoke, which enveloped the ship. When the haze cleared away only a few men could be seen on the decks, while a number were floundering in the water. A boat was lowered from the vessel's side and most of the men in the waters were picked up and taken on board.

Terrible Scenes on Board.

On board the Bennington were presented terrible scenes. The force of the explosion had torn a great hole in the starboard side of the ship an dthe vessel was already commencing to list. A section of the upper deck was carried away from stem to stern. Blood and wreckage were distributed over the entire ship, the after cabin and the part of the ship adjacent to the exploded boiler resembling a charnel house.

The shock of the explosion penetrated every section of the ship, blood and ashes being found as far as the stern of the captain's cabin. Great damage was done in all parts of the vessel.

The boiler that exploded was regarded as unsafe. Comander Young stated that during a recent return from Honolulu, the steam pressure was kept reduced in the particular boiler. At the time of the accident Commander Lucien Young and Surgeon F. E. Peck were on shore. The two officers, as soon as they learned of the disaster, hurried to the water front. Commander Young, as soon as he reached the ship, gave orders that the air tight compartments be closed to prevent the listing ship from sinking and that the magazines be flooded to avert further explosions. He then beached the ship at high tide.

Hurried to the Rescue.

The ferryboat, Ramona, which was crossing the bay at the time of the accident, changed its course and hurried to the aid of the stricken warship. The government launch, Gen. DeRussey and a large number of other launches and water craft which were near the scene at the time also rushed to the assistance of the Bennington.

By the time the Ramona reached the Bennington, many of the sailors of the Bennington who had leaped into the bay to escape the scalding steam, had been rescued by small craft. The removal of the wounded from the ship was conducted in perfect order. The crews of the DeRussey and the other boats aided in picking up the wounded sailors and transferring them to the shore.

The news of the explosion spread over the city like wildfire. At first reports were that half of the crew had been killed. The scene of hurrying ambulances and carriage of every description, which had been summoned, added to the excitement. Every physician, who could be reached by telephone, was called to the water front. Within a short time a score of physicians were attending the wounded. Most of the dead and injured were taken ashore where the undertakers and physicians were assembled.

The bodies of many of the men taken from the wrecked interior of the ship were mutilated beyond recognition. The faces of many were covered with blood and ashes. Some bodies may never be identified.

Temporary Quarters Ashore.

Temporary quarters ashore were arranged for the wounded, and prominent citizens volunteered and hurried in launches to the relief of those on the ship. Some of the volunteers were unable to stand the sickening sight which met their gaze on the Bennington.

s fast as the wounded could be removed they were hurried in ambulances, carriages, wagons and automobiles to hospitals. For a long time the hot steam prevented access to the space between decks, where most of the dead bodies lay, and it was not until later in the afternoon that the last were removed from the boiler rooms. Several bodies were so tightly wedged in by a bulkhead that the wood work had to be hewed away to free them.

When the explosion occurred the engineer was inspecting the boilers. He was not seriously hurt. Officers and men who were able to assist in the rescue, acted in a brave and collected manner. Pumps were manned to keep the water from the upper compartments, the magazine was flooded and men fought their way through the steam into the darkened hold. Many slightly injured sailors remained in the ship and assisted in rescuing the more severely injured.

Boat May Be Total Loss.

The ship's inner works are a tangled mass of machinery and the vessel will probably have to be dismantled to repair the injuries, if, indeed, the warship is not a total loss.

Lieut. Yates, executive officer in charge of the Bennington at the time of the disaster, was in the after cabin. He rushed out, to be met by a blinding, scalding, cloud of steam, as it swept past the vessel. Speaking of the occurrence he said:

"I must have remained seated in my chair several seconds after it occurred, and did not know what had happened. I then rushed out and the steam, even at the extreme after part of the ship, was so dense that I could not get a breath of air, until I ascended the rail.

"As I ran forward I passed one of our boys crawling along. There was no time to attend to the individual cases as there were so many. About 20 of the boys were on the foredeck, all severely wounded. I called for men to man the boats, and only a dozen men, including officers, responded at that moment. All the rest were injured or had been driven over the side by the scalding steam."

A BIG TOURING CAR PLUNGED IN A DITCH

A Lima, O., Young Woman Burned to Death.

SHE WAS PINNED UNDER IT

The Machine Was Rushing Over a Road Near Indianapolis When it Struck a Rut and Was Thrown Over Into the Ditch—Five Persons Besides the One Killed Were Severely Burned and Bruised.

Indianapolis, July 21.—Miss Olive Johnson of Lima, O., was crushed to death and burned and five other persons were severely burned and bruised tonight when a large automobile plunged into a ditch near Broad Ripple, exploding the gasoline storage tank. C. O. Dale of Indianapolis, who was driving the machine, was seriously burned. The others who were injured were:

Clara Brennan, Muncie, Ind.; Ethel Jones, Shelbyville, Ind.; Inez Brennan and Hazel Orr of Indianapolis.

The party were speeding along the river road when the maching struck a rut, overturning the machine in a ditch, and throwing the occupants underneath. From the tail light, the gasoline tank was ignited, and two explosions followed, throwing burning fluid over the young people pinioned beneath the machine.

Before Wm. F. Klanke, attracted by the explosion, could reach the wreck, Olive Johnson had been burned to death. Seizing Dale, Klanke dragged him from the burning car and extinguished the flames. The other young women sustained cuts and bruises and were slightly burned.

AN EXCURSION STEAMER DELIBERATELY GROUNDED.

It Was Feared That There Would Be a Great Disaster.

New York, July 21.—The excursion steamer Sirus was deliberately run aground off North Brother Island today to avoid a panic among her 1,000 passengers, and a possible repetition of the Slocum disaster.

The Sirus, carrying a Sunday school picnic, stove in her side on a rock at the very spot where the Slocum burned last year. Although the captain did not believe his ship would sink, he ran her aground with all possible dispatch and emptied the crowded decks with the aid of small boats. Another boat took the excursionists to their picnic ground and tugs were sent to the disabled Sirus.

The Water Spread Over the Country in a General Flood.

Louisville, Ky., July 21.—Georgetown, Ind., a town 12 miles west of New Albany, on the Southern railway, was almost washed away by a cloudburst. JUDGE HOOKER WINS OUT; WILL NOT LOSE HIS JOB.

End of the Investigation by the New York Legislature—Vote 76 to 67.

Albany, July 20.—The assembly by a vote of 75 to 67 this afternoon saved Justice Warren B. Hooker from removal from the supreme court bench, on the now famous charge concerning his connection with appointments in the Fredonia postoffice and with the "Winter judgment," affecting property of the city of Dunkirk adjoining the Dunkirk postoffice building, owned jointly by him and State Tax Commissioner Lester F. Stearns. Forty one Republicans and 35 Democrats voted for removal; 56 Republicans and nine Democrats against removal.

The final vote was taken upon a formal resolution providing for Justice Hooker's removal. Under the constitution it would have required 100 votes to pass the resolution. It received but 76. Forty-six votes would have defeated it, and the scene as the total of negative votes entered the 40's became intense. Assemblyman Reilly of Kings cast the 46th vote against the removal resolution, at a time when but 51 had been cast in its favor.

The action by the assembly obviates the necessity of a vote in the senate.

After the defeat of the resolution the assembly adopted a resolution censuring Justice Hooker. The resolution was tabled and practically killed by a large vote.

At the conclusion of action on the Hooker resolution, Assemblyman Tompkins offered a resolution declaring that the testimony of State Tax Commissioner Lester F. Stearns had been discredited and repudiated, and that he had been found guilty of "subornation of perjury or perjury," and calling upon the governor to bring about an investigation of his conduct, with a view to removing him from office. The resolution was ruled out of order.

ATTACK ON A YOUNG GIRL BY A FIENDISH FATHER.

First Struck Her With a Stone and Then Shot Her Five Times.

Wheeling, July 21.—John Strait, a farmer of Harts Run, near Cameron, W. Va., yesterday attempted to kill his daughter Jessie at the home of Samuel Griffith, near Sand Hill Church. He first struck her with a stone and then pulled a revolver and shot her five times, and then got an axe and struck her a blow on the head. The young woman was still alive tonight, and was brought to a Wheeling hospital.

It is alleged that Strait had been criminally intimate with his daughter, a child being born a few months ago, and that the brutal father had tried to induce Jessie to place the blame on some one else, which she refused to do. She left home a few weeks after the birth and had been living with the Griffith family since.

Strait was arrested near Morford, Pa., by Constable Anthill of Aleppo, and a hearing was had last night before Justice McCracken at Aleppo. He was held without bail for court. He was taken to Waynesburg this morning and placed in jail. The shooting took place just over the line in Pennsylvania.

THE IRISH PARTY WON ON AN IMPORTANT BILL

Scenes of Excitement Precipitated in the House of Commons—Balfour Very Indignant.

London, July 20.—The government was defeated in the house of commons tonight by a majority of three on the motion to reduce the membership of the Irish land commission.

On the announcement of the vote a scene of the greatest excitement was produced by the liberals and Irish members yelling "resign." The incident is considered hardly of sufficient importance to justify the government in resigning, but when asked by Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, the leader of the opposition last night, what course he intended to pursue, Premier Balfour declined to make a statement.

John Redmond, leader of the Irish party, said the premier had repeatedly declared that he would resign if defeated, and that if he disregarded this vote of want of confidence he would be acting against precedents. Was he going to swallow this humiliation as he swallowed every other humiliation during the last few years, the premier was asked by Mr. Redmond.

Mr. Balfour replied very coolly and said Mr. Redmond had great agitated himself over a matter that could be settled in due time. It was, he said, not conscious of a humiliation.

DANIEL LAMONT DEAD.

END CAME UNEXPECTEDLY

Secretary of War During Cleveland's Administration, He Became a Noted Figure in Public Affairs.

New York, July 23.—Col. Daniel Lamont, secretary of war under President Cleveland, died at 9:15 this evening at his country residence at Millbrook, Dutchess county, N. Y., after a brief illness.

Nothing but the bare announcement of Col. Lamont's death was made public by the family tonight this was contained in a brief message to the Associated Press. It is understood, however, that the end was unexpected, although Col. Lamont had been in feeble health and the members of the immediate family were gathered at the "Almont," the Lamont country home at Millbrook.

Daniel Scott Lamont was born at Tiffindale, N. Y., on Feb. 9, 1851, and began life in journalism, and from 1885 to 1889 was private secretary to President Cleveland, by whom he was appointed secretary of war on March 8, 1893. Mr. Lamont was vice president of the Northern Pacific railway and was a director and trustee in many railroad and financial corporations. He leaves a widow and two daughters. He was a member of many New York clubs.

Death Was Unexpected.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., July 23.—Colonel Daniel Scott Lamont, secretary of war during the administration of President Cleveland, died suddenly at his home at Millbrook, Dutchess county tonight at 9:25 o'clock. Heart failure was the cause of death. Col. and Mrs. Lamont were out driving this afternoon and Co. Lamont appeared to be enjoying the best of health. At dinner he complained of feeling ill and Dr. Stewart of New York, who is a guest at the house, immediately went to his aid. The physician diagnosed the case as an attack of heart failure and in spite of the best of treatment, Mr. Lamont passed away within half an hour.

At his death bed were Mrs. Lamont and two daughters, Frances and Bessie. Several guests at the Lamont home were also present when the end came.

Shortly afterward another accident overturned the launch and before it could be righted two of the men sank. The others clung to the launch for a time when another of the men swam for the shore and was picked up by a fisherman, while the remaining two were dragged down with the launch, which shortly sank. The bodies of two of the colored men have been recovered.

In the year 1870, while a British man-of-war was lying in the port of Ningpo, there was something approaching a mutiny among the men, and immediately after over forty men deserted. Among these were two Americans named Haynes and Bruner. They got away to Shanghai, and from there they fell in with a Frenchman who had been in the country several years as an agent. He had a story to tell about the Kuman islands, a story that had been told him two years before while he was at Ningpo. A Chinese sailor whom he had befriended later on had been cast ashore on the middle island and had existed there for four months. In roaming about he had discovered an old wreck driven into a break in the cliffs and had lowered himself down to it to find that it was an old pirate craft and full of treasure. He had taken out a small amount when a fishing craft appeared and took him off, and later on, during a storm at sea, he had met with an accident that had paralyzed his lower limbs.

What the Chinaman wanted, of course, was that the Frenchman, whose name was Supry, should get up an expedition and go after the treasure. There were many difficulties in the way. Supry was no sailor himself, and he could put no faith in the natives or the white sailors who deserted their ships. There would be considerable expense, and these must be absolute secrecy. Why he trusted Haynes and Bruner was perhaps because he had become desperate in his desire to overhaul the treasure, and as they were deserters from a man-of-war he had reason to believe that they would not dare serve him any trick for fear of being reported and recaptured. Whatever the motive, however, he told them a story and suggested an expedition, and a few weeks later one left the port of Ningpo. The party was made up of Supry, Haynes, Bruner, an Englishman named Webb and two Chinese laborers, and their craft was a junk.

It was two weeks before the wreck was found. The only way to get down to her was to descend a cliff sixty feet high. When she was at last found and visited the report of the treasure was found correct. She had been a fighting junk, carrying about sixty men, and the variety of the plunder on board showed that she had robbed right and left. Her name proved that she had belonged to the piratical fleet of old Chingtoo, a well known pirate of that date, and one who was subsequently blown out of the water by a British cruiser. There had been a great fall of earth and rock around the treasure wreck. This was tunneled through and her hold found full of cash and plunder. In fact, cash and jewelry to the amount of $10,000 was taken out before a landslip occurred which killed one of the laborers. It was then seen that the outlet was deficient. They must have blasting powder and tools and tackles, and it was resolved to run back to port and secure them. Supry was left on the island to guard the treasure, and the others set sail for Ningpo. The man left behind had no firearms, and how he was to act as guard is hard to see.

The junk reached Ningpo all right, but as soon as the sailors began to buy this and that suspicion was aroused. Just as they had secured what they wanted and were ready to return to the islands they were arrested and thrown into prison as suspects. The three white men refused to give up any information, although the bamboo was often applied to the soles of their feet, but the Chinese laborer was whipped into telling all about it. He could tell all about the islands and the treasure, but he could not locate them.

The Chinese government took a hand in the matter and sent out two or three vessels to scout around, but, while they visited many other islands, they did not land on the Kumans. Twice a week for two months the prisoners were brought out and bastinadoed, but all were firm. At length the Englishman died under the punishment, and at the end of three months, when the government had determined on torture of the most savage kind to compel a confession, Haynes and Bruner gave the story away. There was some delay about getting an expedition off, and, taken altogether, it was nearly six months before one sighted the shores of the islands. All three of them were carefully gone over, but Supry could not be found.

The wreck was there, but not as it had been left. A force of men had been there and cleared away the debris and looted all the treasure. Not so much as a "cash" had been left behind. Things had happened just as the Chinese government might have looked for. Old Chingtoo was still doing business, and it was certain that he would and did hear of the finding of the wreck. If she had been given up for lost she was now located where he could find her and recover the plunder. It is likely that he sent an expedition as soon as the matter became public. The Frenchman was found on guard, and the pirates made short work of him. There was hope for a few years that he might have been made captive and would be heard of again, but thirty-five years have elapsed, and no news has come from him.

The government expedition had its trouble for its reward, and when it returned Haynes and Bruner were confined in cages and carried around the country like wild beasts. They were treated with the utmost cruelty for three years, and then Bruner died under it and Haynes was rescued by the American consul.

HE KILLED HIS WIFE

AND COMMITTED SUICIDE.

Horrible Double Tragedy at Philadelphia—A Young Couple Who Had Quarreled.

Philadelphia, July 23.—William Holroyd, aged 25 years, shot and killed his wife, Lillian, aged 17 years, today, and then committed suicide by sending a bullet into his head. The youthful couple were married a year ago and today's tragedy was the result of frequent quarrels during the last three weeks.

Holroyd was a patternmaker at Cramp's shipyard. About 10 days ago the patternmakers at the shipyard went on strike. Holroyd found employment in Newark, N. J., and asked his wife to accompany him there. She refused, it is said, and her refusal to move caused more quarreling, with the result that he shot her three times killing her almost instantly. He then sent a bullet through his own heart. Holroyd left a note addressed:

"To Both our Mothers and Fathers" in which he said:

"We bid you good-bye. We are both unhappy. Our last wish is to be buried side by side."

A RIOT AT A WEDDING

RESULTED SERIOUSLY.

One Man's Head Was Crushed and He is Dying.

Latrobe, Pa., July 23.—Riot and probably murder resulted from the celebration of a Polish wedding at Baggaley, a mining town, near Latrobe this morning. Steven Bono, whose skull was crushed during the fight is reported to be in a dying condition. News of the fracas reached Latrobe this afternoon when a physician was sent for to attend the injured man.

A posse of officers accompanied the physician and upon reaching the town found the festivities still in progress. Approaching the house they were met by a mob of foreigners, who resented their attempt to arrest Bono's assailants and tried to drive them out of town. The officers, by firing their revolvers over the heads of the crowd succeeded in frightening them away, and arrested John Cobol and Mike Fleeman.

John Kuzlus, the third man wanted by the officers, escaped.

Kansas City, July 24.—On July 20 the Associated Press sent out a dispatch naming George C. Warner of New York, as one of the directors of the failed City national bank. This statement is erroneous. Mr. Warner was not at that time and never had been a director of the bank referred to.

Another Bank Closed.

Kansas City, Mo., July 20.—The City National bank failed to open its doors today. The bank held paper of C. J. Devlin of Topeka to the amount of $100,000 and the failure is the direct result of the closing of the First National bank of Topeka of which Mr. Devlin was the principal stockholder.

VERY SIMPLE CEREMONY

OVER PAUL JONES' BODY.

Remains Placed in a Tomb at Annapolis—Later There Will Be Other Exercises.

Annapolis, Md., July 24.—The body of John Paul Jones is now in the possession of the United States. Today it rests on American soil, housed temporarily in an unpretentious vault in the center of the grounds of the naval academy, and near the unfinished chapel, in whose crypt later it is to find honored repose, a perpetual inspiration to the young men of the nation here trained in the arts of naval warfare.

In wonderful contrast to the days of the Bon Homme Richard, a fleet of modern warships in armaments of steel, stood silent guard in strength and dignity as the last sea voyage of the century dead fighter came to an end. He was put ashore with the honors of an admiral; he was entombed with that sincere simplicity in which a respecting republic shows its deepest feeling.

Today the memory of his deeds found voice in the boom of the minute gun. The lavishness of oratory and the splendor and pomp are reserved for the time when his dust is to make sacred the splendid naval abbey now being erected. Until then the ceaselessness tread of an armed sentry will make the nation's vigil.

The solemn evolutions of the funeral cortege, the impressive spectacle of the white clad jackies, marines and midshipmen as they stood in solid phalanx on the sea wall and later surrounded in profound silence the crape draped tomb, the trembling words of praise and supplication of the black-robed chaplain before the bier on the threshold of the vault, the deposit of the body, the musket-fire in volleys and the sounding of taps, all these were in keeping with the revered memory to which honor was done.

The people of Annapolis added their presence to the quiet demonstration, surrounding the cordon of the naval personnel with bared heads and in respectful silence.

An Exciting Dispute.

New York, July 24.—Two men dying and a third seriously wounded was the outcome of an argument in Brooklyn early today between four Swedes, about the secession of Norway from Sweden. The men who are dying in a hospital are: Karl Anderson and John Tromler. Ludwig Thegel was seriously hurt. Victor Linquist was captured after a chase by policemen, who pursued him in a trolley car. He is charged with having done the shooting.

A New Railroad.

San Francisco, July 20.—The Tehauntepec railroad from Salina Cruz on the Pacific side to Coatzacoalcos, on the Gulf of Mexico, a distance of 180 miles, is about completed and it is expected that within 12 months harbor and wharfage for the landing of steamers an dthe transfer of freight will be finished.

Disturbance Didn't Occur.

St. Petersburg, July 23.—Though it was predicted that there would be some disorders in St. Petersburg today, the day was uneventful as yesterday, which was observed as a memorial day for those killed on Jan. 22, last.

Vanderbilt's Horse Won.

Paris, July 23.—W. K. Vanderbilt's Idalia won the Prix de Feucheroles, a selling race of 1¾ miles, at St. Cloud today.

Millions Now Use It.

It would surprise women typists in general to be told that when the writing machine was first invented operating it was thought to be an occupation for men only and not suitable for the feminine sex. Yet such is the fact. The first women operators were considered to be the pioneers of a new trade for their sex, as indeed they were. But by their skill and tact they won the way for all their sisters. Now the swiftest typewriters in the world are acknowledged to be women. It is agreeable to our national pride to know they are American women also. Some of the best to be found anywhere are in the government departments at Washington. Among these Miss Mary E. Pretty, a Philadelphia girl, has clicked off 20,400 words in a day of six hours.

Miss Pretty is a clerk in the patent office. Another young lady who has attained great speed on the writing machine is Miss Olive Cameron of Tennessee, also a clerk in the Washington patent office. Her record is 23,000 words in a day. The copy which she transcribed was extremely difficult, being patent specifications. The highest salary paid to women stenographers and typewriters in the government departments is $1,400. A very rapid typewriter, too, is Mrs. Margaret Cunningham of Trenton, N. J., who learned her trade in the evening schools of that city. She has learned to strike the keys of her machine without looking at them, which gives her a great advantage. Mrs. Cunningham's specialty is law reporting, the most difficult kind. When the typewriting machine was first invented 5,000 words were considered a good day's work.

A Heroic Nurse.

At 10 o'clock one evening recently Margaret Galvin, the night nurse of the women's ward of Bellevue hospital, New York, saw a gleam of light in the direction of the diet kitchen. She excused herself to the patient she was attending and hastened to the kitchen. The woodwork there was on fire, ignited from an imperfectly insulated electric wire. Miss Galvin snatched a blanket and tried at once to smother the flames and pull the wire with its burning coating away from the wall. She could do neither. She received a severe shock and burned her hands severly, but ran instantly to the telephone and called for aid, then fled back to the kitchen to continue the work of putting out the fire. From the office of the hospital word was telephoned at once to the electric light company to shut off the current. At the same time all the men attendants ran to the kitchen to help Miss Galvin. They found her almost suffocated by the smoke and fumes of burning gutta percha, but with her blistered hands still bravely fighting the fire, which was soon extinguished. Only Miss Galvin's courage and resourcefulness prevented panic and disaster.

Mrs. Mary Tootle James.

The Missouri Federation of Women's Clubs is one of the strongest and most alive in the national organization. Its president, recently elected, is Mrs. Mary Tootle James, wife of Judge W. K. James of St. Joseph. The Missouri federation holds its meetings once in two years. Mrs. James is eminent among club women of the southwest. Eleven years ago she and some friends organized the Euncle club of St. Joseph, which has become one of the largest and most influential of women's organizations in Missouri. Mrs. James was a charter member of this fine club. She is a graceful and effective presiding officer.

Made a Fortune In Alacka.

One of the pluckiest women in this land of feminine grit is Miss Marie Riedsell, a Connecticut lady, who went to the Klondike gold fields in 1898. She crossed Chilkoot pass in the early days, taking with her 900 pounds of baggage and two dogs. After numerous wanderings in vain search of wealth Miss Riedsell arrived at Cape Nome without a cent.

Here the indomitable pluck and good common sense of the Connecticut woman saved her and led her finally to the goal of her desires. She was a capital nurse and "hygienic physician," as she called herself, and she immediately began to nurse the sick and doctor them according to the requirements of hygiene. In no place are hygienic rules more needed and more disregarded than in a mining camp. Miss Riedsell found plenty to do at good pay. Soon she began to invest in claims, in some of which she finally struck it rich. She recently returned to her native Connecticut with a fortune.

WITH ECZEMA

Under Physicians Five Months. Went from Bad to Worse.

CURED BY CUTICURA

Wonderful Change in One Night. In a Month Face Was Clean as Ever.

"I was troubled with eczema on the face for five months, during which time I was in the care of physicians. My face was in such a condition that I could not go out. It was going from bad to worse and I gave up all hope, when a friend of mine highly recommended Cuticura remedies. The first night after I washed my face with Cuticura Soap and used Cuticura Ointment and Cuticura Resolvent, it changed wonderfully, and continuing the treatment it removed all scales and scabs. From that day I was able to go out, and in a month my face was as clean as ever."

THOMAS J. SOTH, 317 Stagg St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

THE AGONIZING

Itching and Burning of the Skin

As in eczema; the frightful scaling, as in psoriasis; the loss of hair and crusting of scalp, as in scalled head; the facial disfigurement, as in pimples and ringworm; the awful suffering of infants, and anxiety of wornout parents, as in milk crust, tetter and salt rheum—all demand a remedy of almost superhuman virtues to successfully cope with them. That Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and Pills are such stands proven beyond all doubt. The purity and sweetness, the power to afford immediate relief, the certainty of speedy and permanent cure, the absolute safety and great economy have made them the standard skin cures of the civilized world. Absolutely pure.

Sold throughout the world. Cuticura Resolvent, 50c. (in form of Chocolate Coated Pills, 25c. per vial of 60), Ointment, 50c., Soap, 25c. Depots: London, 27 Charterhouse Sq.; Paris, 5 Rue de la Paix; Boston, 137 Columbus Ave. Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Proprietors.

DIDN'T KILL THE SULTAN;

MANY MEN WERE SLAIN.

Fifty-Five Horses Also Killed by The Bomb—But Little News Sent Out.

Testimony was taken on Monday before E. R. Sherman, acting as special commissioner, to establish the right of the enlisted men of Company C of the 16th regiment, to extra pay on account of their Spanish war service. Most of the men have had their claims disallowed in the treasury department but following the proceedings instituted and carried to a successful end for the officers, the men have filed suit in the court of claims through the attorneys, George A. & W. B. King of Washington. Mr. Clark McKercher of that firm conducted the examination of the witnesses on behalf of the claimants and Mr. Thomas H. Clark of the department of justice, represeated the government.

If the boys win out, there will be in the neighborhood of $3,000 due to be paid at the rate of two months pay to such of the men who have had their claims properly filed.

These will be settled by means of a judgment for each claimant in the court of claims. The right to this pay grows out of a law passed by congress, January 12, 1899, providing two months pay upon mustering out, "in lieu of furlough." Just what these words "in lieu of furlough" meant has been the subject of years of litigation conducted by these attorneys for the commissioned officers, most of whom have recevered judgment. The effort is now being made to accomplish the same thing for the enlisted men. The witnesses were Maj. Burns, Dr. Johnston, Capt. Simons and a number of the claimants. Final payment, in case of success, is expected during the coming winter.

Many who had offered to provide homes for the little ones failed to be on hand to take them, but the delinquents' places were taken by others attracted to the cause by the presence of the little ones in the city.

The children were well attired and all of them were neat and clean, which condition is due entirely to the care and endeavors of the philanthropic ladies interested in the work. Mrs. Poor, returned at once to New York, in order to superintend two other excursions in the country of little ones, and Miss Selkman went to Chautauqua lake for a few days' rest.

Dr. A. Grace White and Miss Ida Stiles of Bradford were responsible for the movement inaugurated to bring the little ones to this city and they and their assistants are deserving of widespread commendation. It is proposed to send over 100 additional children to Bradford within the next two weeks.

The several cases against the Erie railway company for damages by fire alleged to have been caused by sparks from locomotives, which were on trial last week at Erie, have been concluded, a non-suit being entered at the request of the plaintiffs' attorneys. The cases were instituted by the Backer Oil Co., McKeown estate, R. J. Straight, Willoughby estate and others. It appears that the plaintiffs failed to prove that the fires originated within the Erie's right of way. The cases will probably be reopened in the fall. Nearly 100 witnesses were taken to Erie to testify in the suits.
